When dating a Russian girl online or in the real world, there are certain things to take into account. These beautiful Anastasias and Viktorias are very popular with Western men because of their beauty and charm. If you want to treat them right, keep the following tips in mind.

1. If you intend to court a Russian single online, always be honest about who you are during your relationship. After browsing through the countless profiles of lovely Russian women and discovering the one that interests you the most, you'll want to send her a letter showing your interest in her. If she answers and you find her to have the same feelings as you, you should move your relationship to a different level.

2. Do not enjoy an online relationship for too long, since it's just a waste of time if you never get to see your lady. The good news is, today's advanced technology offers various means to connect to people from the other side of the globe. Nowadays, almost everyone has at least a cell phone or a laptop with internet connection. If you met your chosen lady on an international dating website, you can ask her if she's prepared to call you via Skype. Also, see if she agrees to give you her telephone number, so you could give her a call a couple of times before you meet for the first time. If the woman you are interested in says that she doesn't have a mobile phone, or she cannot talk on the video chat, take this as a bad sign. There is a true possibility that the lady is not real, or not attracted to you.

3. Take your romance to the next level when you can: If you have been internet dating for some time now, it's a good idea to move the romance further and meet in real life. Like that there's no room for deception. Many men tend to be afraid when it comes to meeting in person. These guys can send letters for months, but they're afraid to do anything to move the relationship further. Real guys know how to keep the relationship going, and they don't waste time on planning. When you approach her sensibly and quickly, she will respect you for your gesture, and she'll know you are really serious about making this relationship grow and survive. Nowadays, it's easier than ever to get in touch with people who live in a different country, so make sure to use this to your advantage!

4. Arrange a personal meeting: When you have started talking to her regularly, you can take this as courting a Russian woman in real life. Now, organizing a personal meeting wouldn't take too long as you are talking to her on a regular basis. You should ask your Russian woman how she would prefer to meet you for the first time. Most Russian ladies want their man to come to their country. However, you could also book a holiday for two rather than take a trip to Russia. It shouldn't take you too long to plan a date with her. If you feel like things have been going very well, there is nothing wrong with wanting to see her in person. There is no doubt she will be happy about your decision.
