

Dating Polish Women – It's Important to Respect Them And Their Culture

Posted by Alex Vidal on January 13, 2014 in Polish Women

When it comes to dating Polish women there are some things to consider. For example, these ladies will never go out with a guy if they feel like he is being disrespectful towards their nationality, country, traditions and customs. This is the reason why it's always important to be a gentleman. Below is a little list of things that could help you avoid insulting Polish ladies online.

Be Respectful at All Times

A true gentleman will never ever make fun of someone's country or culture. Although a lot of women may find your jokes funny or agree with your opinion, they might not like hearing critique about their country from a foreigner. Be respectful and never say negative things about her nationality or country, at least till you know more about her and can be sure she won't get offended. Even then, be cautious whenever you bring up this topic. You don't want to make your lady feel like her country or nationality are not good enough for her.

Don't Make Fun of Her Language Skills

You must under no circumstances make fun of someone's English language skills or criticize your partner when she says something wrong. Even if you are only joking and not serious at all your words might sound really rude and your criticism could offend her. This is even more true if you don't speak any foreign languages yourself. It is never easy to learn a new language and being made fun of by someone who is a native speaker only tends to make the process a lot more challenging. Bear in mind that you need to stay patient with your lovely lady and help her learn by explaining her mistakes to her.

Do Not Be Ignorant

One can find many ridiculous, inaccurate and unfair stereotypes about women from Eastern Europe. You should never take them seriously if you want to be successful in going out with Polish women. Confidently saying things like all Polish people are communists or all women are poor and miserable and can't wait to escape their sad lives will merely make you sound stupid. It is best to treat all ladies like they are special and you shouldn't make generalizations and assumptions based on their nationality.

In case you are truly enthusiastic about impressing a lady from Poland, ensure you learn facts about the country she comes from. Learn basic geography by studying some maps and get to know the most important events that changed the history of her nation. It wouldn't hurt to learn a few phrases and sentences in Polish either. She will be satisfied that you want to know her better and she will definitely appreciate the effort you're making. Also, a little extra knowledge has never killed anyone.
